MISS SARA BAILEY'S DEATH.

Occurred Today at the Normal—The Directors Still in Session.

The fourth death among the sick at the State Normal and Industrial College occurred at 11 o'clock this morning, when Miss Sara Bailey, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Bailey, of Mocksville, passed away, after an illness of about four weeks. Her parents have been with her during her sickness and were at the bedside when the Angel of Death called. The remains will be carried to Mocksville for interment.

Miss Bailey's demise sends a pang of sorrow to her relatives and her large circle of friends. She was only 19 years of age and had the cordial and respect of the faculty and students. She was a lovely young woman and will be greatly missed. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the sorrowing ones.

Miss Evelyn Bailey, a sister of the deceased, is one of the patients at the Normal, but her condition is reported to be somewhat improved today.

Most of the other patients are also reported improved this afternoon, though the condition of Miss Turner, the matron, remains unchanged.

The board of directors of the institution are still in session, waiting for the bacteriologist analysis of the samples of water from the three wells on the premises, from the state bacteriologist, Dr. Anderson, of Wilson. The samples were shipped to Dr. Anderson last Friday, but owing to misplacement at the express office here, did not leave Greensboro until Monday night. The board expects the analysis tomorrow, and a statement of the situation will then be published.

The board has received reports from Dr. R. H. Lewis, secretary state board of health, President McIver of the Normal, and Prof. J. L. Ludlow, expert civil engineer, and is making a thorough investigation of the premises.

Thanksgiving Service.

The churches of South Greensboro will unite in a Thanksgiving service at the Friends' church tomorrow at 11 a. m. Centenary, Grace, Westminster and Friends will all unite in this service. An offering will be taken for the orphans. Let us all give expression of our thanks by remembering those who are not so fortunate as we are. Bring your offering in an envelope with the name of your church written thereon. Every body is invited to attend this service.

Tomorrow Afternoon.

Don't fail to witness the football game tomorrow afternoon at the park between the North and South Greensboro teams. Both teams are well trained and a warm game may be expected. Game called at 3 o'clock. Music will be furnished by Gate City band.

Only thirty days more in which to avail yourself of the immense bargains we now offer.

ANOTHER ENGLISH VICTORY

Elation at London Over Result of Fight at Madder River.

TEN HOURS OF HARD FIGHTING

The Whole Boer Force Was Encountered—The Dutchmen Driven From Their Position.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Nov. 29.—Methuen has gained a big victory at Madder River. He defeated the entire Boer army massed at the river under General Cronjé. They disputed his passage twenty-two miles south of Kimberley. The British numbered 7000 and the Boers probably about the same. No report of the casualties has so far been received. After ten hours' fighting the Boers were driven from their position.

THE FIGHT AT Madder RIVER.

London, Nov. 29.—General Methuen officially reports from Cape Town of date 28th, as follows:

"I reconnoitred at five this morning and found the enemy strongly entrenched and concealed across Madder river. I had no means of outflanking the position of the enemy as the river was full. The artillery commenced the action and the mounted infantry and guards on the left attacked the position with widely extended formation, supported by the artillery. I found myself in front of the whole Boer force of 8000, with two large guns. Four Krupps and other pieces of the naval brigade rendered great assistance at the railway. After ten hours of hard fighting, the men were without food or water. The burning sun made the enemy quit their position. General Pale Carey was successful in getting a small party across the river, assisted by three hundred sappers. All the men engaged behaved splendidly. It was one of the hardest and most trying fights in the annals of the British army. Special mention is due the artillery."

It appears that the British, with the exception of a small party, are still south of the river, making the engagement indecisive.

BRITISH SORTIE AT KIMBERLEY.

London, Nov. 29.—Pretoria dispatches of the 27th say that Commandant Dutoit reports that the British sortie at Kimberley Saturday encountered Bloemfontein, commanding three hundred Boers. Dutoit hastened to the assistance of the British with one hundred men. Nine burghers were killed and seventeen wounded, while some were missing. The British left upon the field one private and one sergeant. It is reported the British attempted to leave Kimberley on the east side to assist the troops coming from Belmont.

A Boer report of the battle at Belmont has been received via Lorenzo Marques. It says Commandant Lubbe was slightly wounded. The British repaired the damage to the railway. The Free State troops were overwhelmed with numbers, and after a brave stand were compelled to take another position on the other side of the railway.

GREAT ELATION AT LONDON.

London, Nov. 29.—There is great elation at the war office over Methuen's victory. It is considered decisive and relieves Kimberley. From Madder to Kimberley the road is comparatively level. It is possible that no further serious stand will be made by the Boers before Kimberley unless they elect to stand at Spytfontein.

Handsome Sum.

The Altar Guild of St. Barnabas church realized a handsome sum from the promenade concert and oyster supper in Odd Fellows' hall last night. The occasion proved quite a social affair and there was some very attractive music to amuse those who attended.

Notwithstanding the unpropitious weather last evening, the ladies held a most enjoyable fete and now through the medium of their best friends, the editors, wish to thank them, and each and all who so kindly aided the festival in the Odd Fellows' building.

Argued Yesterday.

The Benbow bankruptcy case was argued in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Richmond, Va., Monday and yesterday. D. W. C. and Charlie D. Benbow, petitioners, were represented by Col. James T. Morehead and R. R. King. John Sprunt Hill, of New York; E. K. Bryan, of Wilmington, and John N. Wilson, of this city, appeared for the respondents, the Southern Loan and Trust Company. It will probably be several weeks before an opinion is handed down.

Guy Woodward Coming.

Mr. William Sharp, business manager of Guy Woodward's company is in the city making arrangements for the appearance of this company all of next week commencing Tuesday night at the Academy of Music. Mr. Sharp reports excellent business for his company this season and says he has undoubtedly the only price company that has ever been in the south.

LOSS ALREADY $3,000,000.

Biggest Fire in Philadelphia's History Is Raging This Afternoon.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM. Philadelphia, Nov. 29.—The fiercest and largest fire this city has ever known is now in progress. The loss is already a million. The fire is now in the Lippincott building is gone. Firemen are fighting hard to save other big stores.

STILL BURNING.

Philadelphia, Nov. 29.—Lippincott's loss is placed at a million. The plates of the Encyclopedia Britannica are supposed to be lost. Additional firms burnt out are: Bailey Gassaway Co., Rosenbaur, millinery; Strawbridge, clothing. These losses will "foot up" over half a million. Lippincott's loss is over $3,000,000. The total loss is estimated at three millions. The flames are still raging. Three firemen are injured. Hallohan's shoe store is gutted.

THE ANNUAL GAME

Between North and South Greensboro Teams—Well Matched.

Besides the big games to be played at Atlanta and Raleigh, the local football enthusiasts of Greensboro will have a chance of seeing the annual game between North and South Greensboro here tomorrow. These teams are well matched and the friends of both teams are predicting a victory for their favorites.

The record of these teams in the past is as follows:

1895 north side	8 south side	10
1897 " " 12	" " "	"
1898 " " 0	" " "	"

From this record you see each team has won a game and the other no score was made on either side, and a good game may be expected.

The Gate City Band will give a concert at the McAdoo House at 2:15 and then march out to the park.

The proceeds will go to the Gate City Band.

Games called at 3 o'clock. Admission 10 and 25 cents.

THREE NEW CASES

Of Small Pox at Pomona—Greensboro Well Protected.

Three new cases are reported in the outbreak of smallpox at the Terra Cotta Works, four miles west of the city. All of the cases are of a mild form and several of the patients are convalescent. The county physician has charge of the cases.

There is no need for excitement, as the city is well protected.

One of the new cases is an operative at the Terra Cotta Works who left there yesterday and went to Jamestown and broke out with the disease this morning. The county physician went to Jamestown this afternoon and will bring the patient back to Terra Cotta.

The other two cases are just beyond Terra Cotta.

Notice to Presbyterians.

The Thanksgiving service of the First Presbyterian congregation, as announced last Sunday, will be held in West Market Methodist church tomorrow at 11 a. m. The Presbyterians collection will be for the orphans' home at Barium Springs. We earnestly urge all our people to contribute with their accustomed liberality to this most worthy cause. There are more than one hundred orphans to be clothed and fed. Winter is at hand. Extra expenses are multiplied. They need all we can give. Let us therefore open our hearts and hands to these fatherless ones committed to our care.

If you cannot attend church tomorrow, be sure to send your contribution to Treasurer W. E. Bevil.

Social Meeting.

The W. C. T. U. of North and South Greensboro will hold a literary and social meeting at Grace church Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Hon. C. H. Mebane, of Raleigh, will deliver an address on "The Importance of Scientific Temperance Teaching in Our Public Schools."

Those who receive an invitation to the reception to be given by the W. C. T. U. at Grace M. E. church, Friday evening may consider themselves fortunate, as the occasion promises to be one of more than ordinary interest. Aside from the social feature, Superintendent Mebane and other speakers of note will be present and make short talks on scientific temperance.

Funeral of Mr. Harvey.

The funeral services over the remains of R. Ad. Harvey, whose death was noted in these columns yesterday, were held at Mt. Pleasant church, a few miles east of the city, Friday evening. There was a large attendance of sorrowing relatives and friends who had gathered to pay their last tribute to the deceased. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The services were conducted by Revs. J. B. Tabor and E. L. Stack.

Well Known Lawyers.

W. C. Newland, of Lenoir, member of the executive committee of the state penitentiary, Hon. A. C. Avery, I. T. Avery criminal court solicitor from Burke county, and S. J. Irvin, of Morganton, were in the city yesterday enroute to Raleigh to attend supreme court.

FEELING AGAINST ROBERTS

The Polygamist Congressman Strong at Washington

A QUIET THANKSGIVING DAY

Expected at the National Capital. Cabinet Members Will Spend It With Their Families.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, D. C., November 29.—As members of the house of representatives observe a day of thanksgiving, it is expected that the feeling against the congressman-elect Roberts, of Utah, is very deep. The resentment against allowing him to retain his seat is not alone to be found among the republicans, but democrats, as well, protest against his seating, unless he can successfully defend himself against the charges under which he rests. Members from the south are particularly strong in their resentment against Roberts, and it is predicted that many representatives from that section will be found who will not support his contention that the house of representatives has nothing to do with the morals of a fellow member. Most of the democrats, and for that matter the republicans too, seem to be averse to the taking of any action towards unseating him on Monday, the opening day of congress, but seem favorable to the instruction of a series of resolutions which will cause an investigation of his case to be made by some competent committee of the house. It is not impossible that Roberts may ask for the appointment of a special committee to examine into the charges which have been preferred against him, and if he does, it would doubtless be granted by the house. The general impression seems to be that any resolution which may be offered on Monday will be referred to the committee on judiciary, or to the committee on elections. As neither of these committees are yet appointed, it would be some time before the investigation could be begun. There is almost a universal opinion among members now in Washington that Roberts will be given a fair trial, and an opportunity to defend himself, after which, if he does not do so, the house in a deliberate manner, and after calm and dispassionate consideration will vote nearly unanimously that he is not entitled to the seat.

Mr. Roberts is in Washington, and will remain here until the convening of the house. He does not seem to be in the least disturbed by the criticism of his fellow members, and seems to be confident of being allowed to retain the seat. Since coming to Washington he has made no attempt to defend himself from the charges saying that he will not do so until the proper time, which will be after the house has concluded to cause an investigation to be made.

Thanksgiving Day will be observed more quietly than usual this year in official circles. This is on account of the recent death of Vice-President Hobart. At the white house the day will be spent quietly by President and Mrs. McKinley. Most of the members of the cabinet will spend the day in Washington with their families. Assistant Attorney General Boyd will spend the day here, as will also Assistant Postmaster General Heath, and most of the other high officials. During the afternoon the usual football games will be played, and there will be special matinees in all of the theatres of the city.

President and Mrs. McKinley have cancelled all of their social engagements for the next thirty days, out of respect to the late Vice-President Hobart. The members of the cabinet and other officials with few exceptions also will refrain from taking a prominent part in the affairs of the national capital during the period of mourning. Southern members of the senate and house are coming in rapidly. Among those now here are Senator McLaurin, of South Carolina, Senator Caffery, of Louisiana, Senator Tallaferra, of Florida, Senator Momy, of Mississippi, and others.

Washington correspondents are beginning to return to Washington for the session. Among those who are now here is Mr. J. A. Holoman, of the Atlanta Journal, who is accompanied by his wife, who will spend the winter in Washington.

Friday evening the ladies of the North Carolina society will hold their annual meeting at the National hotel. The meeting of the association last Saturday was a very pleasant occasion, nearly all prominent North Carolina people in the city being in attendance.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., Nov. 29.

Glad you both are with us for another year, B others Scroggs and Lowdermilk.

Editor W. C. Hamner, of the Asheville Courier, passed through last night going south.

Charley Muse, manager of the electric light system is busy stringing wires this week for lights in the following factories for use in the early morning and night.

performance which is to be given by local talent at the opera house Thursday and Friday nights of next week, is a very large one, numbering some twenty people and has been selected with great care. Messrs. Bartam and Willard, the direct res, express themselves as being highly pleased with the selection on each one seems especially adapted to the character of the cast for:

T. Barry, of this city, and Mr. Rice, of Greensboro, went out hunting yesterday and returned in the p. m. and without any luck. They are now hunting for a "kicking machine."

Rev. A. W. Piler, of Asheville, was here last night, returning from conference.

Allyn Child, of Baltimore, E. W. Wilson, of Richmond, and W. W. Martin, of Atlanta, were guests of this city yesterday.

High Point's eleven has challenged Guilford College to meet them on the gridiron here Thanksgiving Day for a game of football.

Miss Eva Thurston is indisposed, at her home in the western part of the city.

Messrs. E. D. Steele and J. F. Hoffman, owners of the High Point telephone exchange, have sold out to Messrs. J. F. Hayden and T. J. Finch, of Thomasville, the deal being consummated yesterday.

Since Greensboro has passed a law prohibiting all persons residing or working in the neighborhood of the terra cotta works (where a supposed epidemic of smallpox is prevalent) from coming within the corporate limits of the city within thirty days without a physician's certificate, why shouldn't High Point take these same precautions? Even if you do not think there is any danger from "the disease" this precaution would preclude the possibility of it being brought here from the infected district, and give ease of mind. If the disease should chance to claim a victim here, as doubtless, as was the case in other towns, the scare would prove far more disastrous than the smallpox itself. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

A happy man is depot agent H. C. Field, and he has cause to be so. Why—a bouncing boy arrived at his home yesterday.

It is reported here this morning that there is a case of smallpox at Jamestown. Don't you believe one word you hear in regard to this report without know it is a fact. We don't have any idea that there is a genuine case of the disease within 100 miles of Jamestown.

R. J. Purcell, of Philadelphia, and another gentleman from the north, who have been here for several days in the interest of a firm who wish to secure a franchise for water works here, returned home last night. While here they secured several jugs of water from streams and also from wells, and sent samples to Raleigh and Philadelphia to be analyzed by chemists.

THE SUBSTANTIAL SOUTH.

The Philadelphia Record loves to tell of the wonderful industrial growth of the south during the past few years, and never loses an opportunity to refer to it.

The following is taken from the editorial page of yesterday's Record: Readers of the Record have been kept informed, from time to time, of the march of progress in all industrial affairs of the south. The increase in manufactures there, especially of iron, steel and cotton, has been truly phenomenal within the past decade, exceeding that of any other part of the United States. In a late issue of Harper's Weekly some figures are given which prove these assertions more completely than words can do. But the figures are so full of meaning and magnitude that they cannot be understood at a glance. For instance, from an insignificant beginning the production of pig iron has grown to such great proportions that the south must now be reckoned with in all discussions of pig iron production in this country. It is even claimed that by reason of peculiarly favorable conditions—such as contiguity of iron ore, fuel and flux, together with comparatively cheap labor—the south today controls the price of pig iron not only in this country but elsewhere. Again, we learn that there are five million spindles running in the southern cotton mills, and it is estimated that the capital invested in these mills reaches the large sum of $125,000,000, and that the value of the manufactured products in 1899 will reach the stupendous total of $1,500,000,000! The wages paid to factory employees this year will, it is said, amount to $350,000,000.

It is thus evident that the once sharply defined dividing line between agricultural interests in the south and manufacturing interests in the north is being obliterated, so that in a few years there will be no line apparent. These far-reaching economic changes have, we believe, been factors of no slight importance in expunging that other line—an imaginary line in this case—of separation between the north and the south. There is no tie that binds a nation together so tightly as a community of interests, and, therefore, the manufacturers of the north may look with complacency upon the advent of their southern brothers into the ranks of producers of necessary commodities and luxuries, for both of which great classes of products this united country is now preparing to supply the world. The capital needed for the development of the southern industries has come largely from the manufacturers of the north, and thus all the people are interested in the industrial progress of the rejuvenated southern states.

Senator Daniel, of Virginia, aspires to the presidency. It is highly folly for a southerner to try to reach the chief executive chair.

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving, and in accordance with our usual custom there will be no paper issued from the Telegram office. The newspaper man loves rest as well as anyone else and needs it, perhaps, more. So the whole push, from editor to office boy, will take a day off and chew turkey and render thanks that they have it to chew. So long, till Friday.

Hangings seem to be social affairs of great moment out in Arizona, according to the following invitation sent out by the sheriff of Navajo county of that region:

"You are hereby cordially invited to attend the hanging of one George Smiley, murderer. His soul will be swung into eternity on December 8, 1899, at 2 o'clock p. m., sharp. Latest improved methods in the art of scientific strangulation will be employed, and everything will be done to make the surroundings cheerful and the execution a success."

THE LUZON SITUATION.

If some fellow high in authority—somebody that knows whereof he speaks and who does not speak from prejudice against or partiality for the Washington administration—if such a fellow would say about when the war in the Philippines will end, and if the fellow had the faculty of making people believe him, he would afford a world of satisfaction to millions of curious minds.

Organized resistance to the Americans on the Island of Luzon is said to be knocking into smithereens, and the commander-in-chief of the insurgents is a flying, hatless fugitive. Yet, there are six unwhipped hostile rebel forces north of Manila, the largest of which numbers 1100 men, under Gen. Macarido. In Cavite Province there are from 3000 to 4000 armed insurgents under General Tulas, ready to pounce on the United States troops the moment they fall asleep. While it is true that these forces are unable to cope with the Americans, they are still troublesome and dangerous customers to have about. Knowing the country well they can break up into smaller predatory bands of guerrillas and cause no end of vexation to Uncle Sam's troops. The dry season has just begun in the Philippines and will continue, we believe, until next June. It is hoped that Gen. Otis will bestir himself and put some life into his operations against the insurgents and have an end to this very tiresome and expensive war.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC.

BY J. W. TILLINGHAST.

[All communications intended for this department should be sent to J. W. Tillinghast, 415 Eugene street. All notices for publication should be handed in not later than 9 o'clock Monday.]

When, a few months ago, I undertook the editing of a weekly department of music in the Telegram it was with the thought that it might be possible to interest other people in its success, that it might be made, in some sense, a mirror of the musical thought and activity of the community. Such a department is possible, and would be a real help to us, but it is possible only if those who can assist in making it, come forward and do so. I would like to give space to the opinions of people who are interested in musical growth. I would like to have some views, for instance, on the public school music question.

Why is there not a department of music in the Greensboro graded schools? I have my opinion as to the reason, and would like to have yours. This much I would like to say, however: I don't believe the fault lies with the school board or the management. Without knowing the ground I will venture the assertion that no class is more keenly alive to the need of such a department than are the public school teachers.

Let us hear from you; civilization is the result of rubbing the opinions of one man against those of another.

Is music worth making a part of education as an element essential to its completeness, or is it to be considered in the light of an annex? There are people on both sides of this question and if you are one of those who think that musical ability can be superadded to an otherwise more or less complete educational development, by a few months special application, then you will be impatient at this waste of good space in the Telegram. But if you are really musical yourself you will realize that you cannot remember when you learned to think tones. That musical thought—tonal perception—is a part and parcel of your earliest recollection—as completely beyond the dawn of consciousness as the power of speech; and realizing this you will readily sustain me in the assertion that no system of musical education can claim the highest efficiency, that does not reach and develop the tone-thinking capacity of early childhood.

Music is, in a certain sense, a language, and one's knowledge of a language is gauged by one's ability to think in it. Nowhere can music thinking be so successfully encouraged and developed as in the schools. At no time in life will a given amount of instruction produce so large and lasting an impression as during the years a child spends in school. The public school is the best place for musical instruction to begin. Under our conditions it is the only place where it is at all possible to reach any considerable portion of the children.

ADDRESS OF WARNING.

Bryan to Spend the Winter at Austin.

Austin, Tex., Nov. 28.—Wm. J. Bryan and wife arrived here today, to spend the winter in this city. They are the guests of ex-Governor Hogg temporarily, but will shortly rent a private residence for the winter.

Mr. Bryan stated today that he had come to Texas to spend the winter, to rest and prepare for the campaign of 1900, which he expected would be a very hard one, and that he would only make a few speeches in Texas during his stay.

The Poet Burns,

Not the least of the advantages attending life assurance is the serenity of mind which attends the provident man lying on a bed of sickness, or when he is in prospect of death—so unlike that painful anxiety for the future welfare of the family not provided for. The poet Burns, in writing to a friend a few days before his death, said that he was "still the victim of affliction. Alas! Clark, I begin to fear the worst. Burns' poor widow and a half a dozen of his dear little ones, helpless orphans; there, I am weak as a woman's tear. Enough of this, 'tis half of my disease!"

"If you would escape the rock upon which the lamented Burns split," take shelter from the storm that is bound to spend its fury upon you when the fatal summons comes, by at once securing the magnetic contract offered by the Provident Savings.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm Cures Others, Why Not You?

My wife has been using Chamberlain's Pain Balm, with good results, for a lame shoulder that has pained her continually for nine years. We have tried all kinds of medicines and doctors without receiving any benefit from any of them. N. J. McDUFFIE,

Next Door to Express Office

If a man is going to fight he wants to be well. He wants to be strong, steady, nervous, vigorous—able to take and give punishment. One of Roosevelt's Rough Riders actually starved to death because his digestive system was not strong enough to extract the nutriment from food that kept his comrades strong and well and in tip-top fighting trim.

The soldier isn't the only one who fights and needs strength. Business men, clerks, engineers, laborers, all have to fight for a living. The weak go to the wall. What about you?

Is your blood all right? Do you feel right? Are you losing flesh? Feel "run down"? Do you sleep well? Have trouble with your stomach? Tired all the time? If so, what you need is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It makes men strong. It keeps the digestive system right up to concert pitch. It tones the stomach, stimulates the liver, strengthens the nerves, enriches the blood—makes a new man of you. Put up snap and vim and endurance into you.

A. D. Weller, Esq., of Pensacola, Escambia Co., Fla., has written: "I have taken eight bottles of the Golden Medical Discovery, and must say that I am transformed from a weak shadow (as my friends called me) to perfect health. Four months ago I did not think to be able to assist our 'Uncle Sam' in case of hostilities, but thanks to you, I am now ready for the 'Dons'."

WYCHE THE STORY TELLER.

He is in Raleigh to Spend Two Weeks in the Public Schools.

Mr. R. T. Wyche the story teller, of Greensboro, is in Raleigh to spend two weeks. He is there at the invitation of Supt. E. P. Moore, of the graded schools, and others.

The News and Observer says that Mr. Wyche is the originator of a new movement in the educational field of this country.

The idea is an original one with him. He visits schools and tells classic and literary stories. His stories of Hiawatha, King Arthur and his Round Table, Ulysses, Uncle Remus, Fairy and Bible Stories are drawn from original sources. These are given in the schoolroom or chapel as a part of the daily program, and so arranged that they fit in perfectly with the spirit and aim of the different grades and classes.

The stories charm and delight the young people, leading them to love the good and beautiful in literature, and to read for themselves.

Mr. Wyche does not recite as an elocutionist. His purpose is to relate the child and student to literature. For example, he will take Tennyson and Sir Malory and from this standpoint tell the stories of King Arthur and his Round Table, putting the story in language that the student can understand. Those who have heard him say that his manner is simple, but magnetic and charming.

Mr. Wyche's work is appreciated by the schools and general public. He has many engagements ahead. He was one of the speakers at the Teachers' Assembly at Morehead last June, and now he has received an invitation to speak in one of the departments at the Southern Teachers' Association, which meets at Memphis, Tenn., December 27-30.

Little Pimples Turn to Cancer.

Cancer often results from an impurity in the blood, inherited from generations back. Few people are entirely free from some taint in the blood, and it is impossible to tell when it will break out in the form of dreaded cancer. What has appeared to be a mere pimple or scratch has developed into the most malignant cancer.

"I had a severe cancer which was at first only a few blotches, that I thought would soon pass away. I was treated by several able physicians, but in spite of their efforts the condition became alarming. After many months of treatment and growing steadily worse, I decided to try S. S. S., which was so strongly recommended. The first bottle produced an improvement. I continued the medicine, and in four months the last little cancer dropped off, and not a sign of the disease has returned."

S. S. S. For Blood
(Swift's Specific) is the only blood remedy guaranteed Purely Vegetable. All others contain potent and mercury, the most dangerous of minerals. Books on Cancer and blood diseases mailed free by Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

It is dangerous to experiment with Cancer. The disease is beyond the skill of physicians. S. S. S. is the only cure, because it is the only remedy which goes deep enough to reach Cancer.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

It is Ready and is an Unusually Heavy Document.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The president's annual message is practically completed, and ready for transmission to congress, when it assembles next week. The message will be unusually long, on account of the enormous and important topics it discussed. It is not certain that the message will be sent to congress next Monday.

It is customary to send it on the day of the assembling of congress, but as the death of the vice-president makes it certain that the senate at least will adjourn immediately out of respect to his memory, it is not unlikely that the message will be withheld until Tuesday. In the house, the adjournment will only be delayed until that body is organized, when, upon the announcement of the death of the vice-president, it will adjourn.

Not a Surprise.

It will not be a surprise to any who are at all familiar with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, to know that people everywhere take pleasure in relating their experience in the use of that splendid medicine and in telling of the benefit they have received from it, of bad colds it has cured, of threatened attacks of pneumonia it has averted and of the children it has saved from attacks of croup and whooping cough. It is a grand, good medicine. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

One way to obviate long engagements is to break them off.

PRESIDENT AND WINE DRINKING

Bishop Nide Says Mr. McKinley Not Guilty of the Office.

Recent statements that President McKinley drank wine at a dinner were discussed by the Methodist officials of the Epworth League at the Grand Hotel today. Bishop Nide said:

"I am a rabid teetotaler, and I believe that any Methodist holding an exalted public position should be particularly careful that his conduct should be in every way exemplary. I include the president, but, as I understand it, President McKinley was not guilty of the offense charged. I am informed that he told Bishop Walder, of Cincinnati, that the statement was untrue and that he did not drink wine at a banquet or anywhere else. I also have it from a bishop in Washington who purposely had a personal conversation with the president, that Mr. McKinley told him that he had at all times been observant of the laws of the Methodist church, and had obeyed them."

"President McKinley's statement settles the matter. His word cannot be doubted."

"My wife suffered for many years from Nervous Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Sleeplessness and Nervous Debility," writes John Kelson, Philadelphia. "We tried many physicians and numerous remedies, but with no result, until I bought of Johnson's Dyspepsia Cure. We bought six boxes, and the result far surpassed our expectations. She now eats and sleeps well, is gaining in flesh, and her color, which had gotten so yellow and sickly, is now as fresh as when we were first married, and I tell her that Johnson's Dyspepsia Cure has made her ten years younger."

GEN. ROBT. B. VANCE DEAD.

Distinguished Citizen of Buncombe, and for 12 years a Congressman.

Asheville, Nov. 23.—Robert Brank Vance, brigadier general of the Confederacy, twelve years representative in congress from this district, assistant commissioner of patents during Cleveland's first term, once a member of the legislature from Buncombe, and a man beloved by all people, died today at his home near Alexander. The body will be brought to Asheville Thursday morning and will lie in state at the Central Methodist church till 3 p. m., when the funeral services will be held. The Masons will have charge of the funeral and it is expected that Confederate veterans and the military and civil organizations of the city will assist the Masons. The interment will be in the family lot at Riverside cemetery, near the spot where lie the remains of his illustrious brother, Zebulon Baird Vance.

General Vance was twice married, his first wife being Miss Hatlie McElroy, who died in Washington about 1880. His second wife, Miss Lizzie Cook, whom he married about five years ago and four children of the first marriage, survive.

General Vance was a man near the hearts of the people and expressions of sorrow because of his death were heard on every hand.

If conscience makes cowards of us all the average dentist must have a wonderful lot of it.
